A new beginning at the Museum and two AMEDD farewells

The Foundation is pleased to announce the debut of a new public website for the US Army Medical Museum

Based on an internal needs assessment, combined with the recommendation of an external review panel, the AMEDD Museum staff felt strongly that the Museum was in need of a new, more user-friendly webpage for the public. While the Museum already has a public webpage under the military's .mil domain, this site often frustrates civilian users who may not be able to easily access or navigate this military webpage. In full agreement, the Foundation agreed to fund the creation and maintenance of a new public website. Aimed at attracting public interest in not only visiting the Museum but the history of Army Medicine as well, this exciting and engaging new webpage provides details on how to visit, the extraordinary collection available to view, as well as information and links to a wide range of Army medical topics.

Foundation notes the passing of two AMEDD General Officers

We recently learned of the death of Lieutenant General Alcide M. LaNoue, USA Retired, who passed away on 20 February 2021 at the age of 86. Lieutenant General LaNoue retired in 1996 after over 38 years of service to include service as the 38th Surgeon General of the U. S. Army. During the latter part of his career, he served as Assistant Chief, Orthopedic Service, Walter Reed Army Medical Center, Washington, DC and later as Commander, 209th General Dispensary, 97th General Hospital, United States Army Europe. Interment was held at Bushnell National Cemetery, 6502 S.W. 102nd Avenue, Bushnell, FL on 8 March 2021. More details of his incredible career are at the attached link.

LTG LaNoue's Obituary

It is with deep regret that we also learned of the death of Major General Philip K. Russell, USA Retired, who passed away on 21 January 2021 at the age of 88. Major General Russell retired in 1990 after over 29 years of service. During the latter part of his career, he served as Deputy Commander, Medical Research and Development Command, Fort Detrick, Maryland and later as Commanding General, Medical Research and Development Command/Assistant Surgeon General for Research and Development, Office of the Surgeon General, Fort Detrick, Maryland. A private service was held on 28 January 2021. More details of his stellar career are at the attached link.

Donations in memory of these two outstanding AMEDD leaders may be made directly to the Foundation by clicking on the Donate link at the bottom of this newsletter. Or by calling (210) 226-0265 for assistance to speak to someone in the Foundation Office.
